A National Conference on the Northern Plains
History | Literature | Art | Archeology

The Center For Western Studies • April 27-28, 2012

Wounded Knee 1973: Forty Years Later

Conference Theme: On December 29, 1890, Miniconjou Lakota chief Spotted Elk (Big Foot) and some 300 of his followers were gunned down on the banks of Wounded Knee Creek. Eighty-three years later, 200 Oglala Lakota seized and occupied the town of Wounded Knee, South Dakota, for 71 days. In observance of the 40th anniversary of the occupation of Wounded Knee in 1973, The Center for Western Studies is seeking papers that will address questions related to Wounded Knee 1973, the 1890 massacre, as well as any and all aspects of Northern Plains American Indian history and culture. As always, papers on any subject related to Northern Plains history, literature, art, and archeology are welcome.

Submission Requirements: Send a one-page paper or session proposal with title, brief description, and biographical sketch, along with presenter name, address, phone number, and email address, to Tim Hoheisel, Director of Outreach and Promotion, The Center for Western Studies, Augustana College, 2001 S. Summit Ave., Sioux Falls, SD 57197 tim.hoheisel@augie.edu. Proposals are due on or before February 10, 2012. Please indicate whether you would also serve as a session chair.

Lakota spiritual leader Frank Fools Crow
