Recommended Reading by Marcia Sietstra

Websites:

http://pluralism.org  The Pluralism Project at Harvard University: tracks religious diversity in the U.S. and provides resources to build understanding across lines of religious difference.

http://www.firstamendmentcenter.org/ One of the most authoritative sources of news, information and commentary on First Amendment issues. It features daily updates on news about First Amendment-related developments, including discussion of religious-liberty issues.

http://tri-faith.org The Tri-Faith Initiative, an organization involving three religious communities who are building a Jewish synagogue, Episcopal church, Muslim mosque, and an interfaith center on adjacent land, forming an intentional community.

To learn more about Islam (Muslims), see http://www.isna.net/ The Islamic Society of North America. Other reliable websites include: islamicate (http://www.islamicate.com/), altmuslim (http://www.altmuslim.com/), altmuslimah (http://www.altmuslimah.com/), and Muslim Media Watch (http://muslimahmediawatch.org) .

Articles.

http://www.americanprogress.org/issues/2011/08/islamophobia.html "Fear, Inc.: The Roots of the Islamophobia Network in America." This report is published by the Center for American Progress. It details the funders, organizations, and individuals who have contributed millions of dollars to churn up exaggerated fear and hostility toward Islam and Muslims.

Books.

