

September 6, 2009

Augustana College: Educational Value

Andrea: It actually cost me less than a state school. I've discovered it's a college where you get more than your money's worth.

Rob: That's Andrea Feige from Sioux Falls. She graduated from O'Gorman High School and is a sophomore at Augustana College this year.

Andrea: Like a lot of local kids, I wasn't sure I wanted to stay in Sioux Falls, so I did look at a state school. But Augustana had a lot more to offer. And with the financial assistance I got, it's actually costing me less.

Rob: I'm Rob Oliver, president of Augustana. Nationally, more students are worried about two things. Being able to afford to go to college and finding a job after graduation in their chosen field. Augustana can help you with financial aid and—more importantly—help you be prepared for your future.

Andrea: The great professors at Augustana really challenge and encourage me, so I do my best work. I've been to Greece and plan to go to Egypt. After my first year at Augie, I'm more aware of the challenges and issues facing the world and I'm more driven to do my best to help others. At Augustana, it feels like a family.

Rob: There isn't a better educational value today. See for yourself; go to Augie dot e-d-u slash Value.

Augustana College: Demonstrated success ... Great Value!