Augie Psychology Club Constitution

Article I — Purpose
The Augie Psychology Club is a community of students at Augustana College in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, meant for those who are interested in psychology and willing to share their specialized knowledge and energy with the aim of promoting the field and helping each other within it.

Article II — Membership
Membership is available to all those who have been enrolled or employed at Augustana College during the last six months. For recordkeeping purposes, our member list at any given time consists of those signed up to receive the club’s email updates.

Article III — Offices and Duties
The club’s officers shall be elected by pluralities of the members voting within a 48-hour period, with a minimum of four votes required to elect a candidate. Terms last until the beginning of the next academic year, unless interrupted by recalls (see Article V). Positions include:

President — serves as the club’s primary communicator with the Faculty Advisor and the Augustana Student Association, maintains a mailing list for members, and coordinates meetings and events according to the wishes of the club.
Vice President — regularly confers with the President regarding the club’s activities, and fulfills the President’s duties when the President is not available.
Treasurer — manages the budget, judges the feasibility of proposed events, and regularly confers with the President and Vice President regarding these considerations.
Assistant Coordinator — one of two or three officers elected or appointed to serve as general communicators, maintaining thorough knowledge of schedules and procedures, and offering guidance to club members upon request.

The above positions are designated for purposes of organization and efficiency, not necessarily authority. Any member may initiate a vote at any time, with the exception of votes for officer positions, which shall be scheduled and organized by the current officers.

Article IV — Amendments
Amendments to the Constitution can be made only with the approval of at least two of the three officers and a two-thirds majority of those club members who vote within a 48-hour period. The language of any amendment shall be emailed to the members at least 48 hours before it is voted upon.

Article V — Recalls
Any officer can be recalled by a two-thirds majority of those members who vote within a 48-hour period. If successful, the recall is effective immediately upon the end of the voting period, at which time members shall begin voting for replacements.
