Course syllabus must be included with the proposal, as well as a statement of how the course will be tailored for independent work. (Use the same numbering as regular course).

2. Independent Study: Each department in the University offers an independent study course each year, for which a student may propose a project to be completed through self-directed study. Course numbers 199, 299, 399, or 499 depending on the level of study.

PROCEDURE FOR REGISTRATION AND APPROVAL

Prior to registering, the student should secure the signatures of the academic advisor, the project advisor, and the Department Chair with indicate approval to pursue this independent study.

2. Course Proposal Form: This form outlines the details of the independent study. The student must file this proposal with all signatures, except the Registrar’s, approximately two weeks after the Fall or Spring semester begins (or by the end of the 5th class day for Interim and Summer). Please check the academic calendar for the exact due date. The Registrar will review the completed proposal for final approval. The course proposal form must be filled out fully and in detail to be considered. Poorly written or incomplete proposals will be return for revision.

3. With departmental approval, independent study may be counted toward the major.

4. While a student may plan to complete an independent study project over more than one semester, the registration for the course must be completed at the time the student begins the course. This enrollment may be considered as one of the regular courses or as an overload. If added as an overload, the student must pay the regular tuition charges for overload credit. Any student who finds that it is impossible to complete an independent study project may withdraw from the course without grade penalty (a grade of “W” will be assigned) and without refund of tuition. A grade of IP (In Progress) will be assigned if the student has not completed the project by the end of the semester in which he/she has enrolled. The student has a maximum of one year to complete the course.
