Objectives
As the result of attending this session, students will be able to
● Examine career paths for various industries and academic programs offered at Augustana.
● Investigate the activities, training requirements, and realities of various occupations within their chosen industry.
● Narrow or expand their occupational prospects.
● Identify and illustrate the professional value of the liberal arts by affirming the diverse occupational paths available to Augustana graduates.

Instructions
Students are invited to preview the professions of the alumni listed below and attend the discussion that interests them most. The location of each panel is noted next to its title. Students who have questions may contact the Success Center at success@augie.edu or 605.274.4127.

BUSINESS AND COMMUNICATIONS | MC 102
Matthew Dreke, ’03, Technician, ELBO Computing Resources, Inc. (Journalism)
Paula Haiwick, ’94, President, Haiwick Heritage Ranch and Management Consultant for Booz Allen (Government, International Affairs)
Pete Knapp, ’96, Director, Supply Chain Technology, Hy-Vee Inc. (Business Administration, Math)

HEALTHCARE & RESEARCH | HUM 103
David Bak, ’61, Chemistry Professor, Retired, Hartwick College (Chemistry)
Jeffrey Oakland, ’02, Optometrist, Dakota Vision Center (Biology)
Kristi Sorteberg Reierson, ’82, Workforce Consultant at the Good Samaritan Society (Social Work)
Michelle Wolthoff Connor, ’87, Occupational Therapist, Le Mars Physical Therapy (Biology)

PUBLIC SERVICE | FSC 371
Gina Verdoorn, ’05, Attorney, Sporer & Flanagan (Government, International Affairs)
Paul Ordal, ’95, Special Assistant, U.S. Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works (Government, International Affairs)
Pamela Cragoe Miller, ’94, Director Regional Grassroots Advocacy, American Heart Association, Midwest (Government, International Affairs)

SOCIAL SERVICES & EDUCATION | HUM 102
Suzanne Ness Hegg, ’68, Retired Executive Director, SD Children’s Museum, Principal, Teacher (English)
Paul Rasmussen, ’03, Major Gifts Development, Greater Twin Cities United Way (Government, International Affairs)
Stacia Wagner Walters, ’05, Seventh Grade Communication Arts Teacher, Mill Creek Middle School (English, Secondary Education)

TECHNOLOGY | HUM 331
Dennis Bly, ’94, Academic Initiative Relationship Manager, IBM (Government, International Affairs, Business)
Marty Moore, ’94, Senior Strategy Consultant, Oracle (Communication Studies)
Tracey Fredrick, ’06, Information Technology Specialist, State of Minnesota (Psychology, Sociology)